Learning Together – Empowered for Life

Yateley students are celebrating excellent results in their A-level, BTEC and CACHE courses! There has been intense pressure on results this year, with an effort to pin national results back to at least 2019 levels, with no accommodation made around pandemic disruption. In light of this pressure, especially in the upper grade ranges, the Sixth Form's track record has continued strongly and results compare well with the excellent standard achieved over the past three years, and indeed comparable with 2019 levels and previous years.

These well-deserved results mean that Yateley students are once again very well placed to secure excellent and ambitious next steps; whether in higher education, training or employment. Each year a significant number of Yateley students progress to university, with many students heading into the most competitive degree courses.

Within a very accomplished cohort, there have been outstanding individual performances. Emily Chandler (pictured) has two A* grades amongst her A' Level grades will be reading Mathematics at the University of Bath. Huge congratulations also go to Kezia Chacko who has secured her place to read Theology and Religion at the University of Oxford. Harry Jarvis (pictured) and Yoav Shimoni both achieved a selection of A* grades and have secured places at their first-choice universities. Harry will read mathematics at the University of Bristol and Yoav will read Computer Science and Mathematics at the University of Exeter. Also pictured are our two high scoring senior students Cobi Shambrook and Will Moores. Cobi is going on to read Law at Royal Holloway and Will is going to Warwick to read History.

Headteacher, Paul German said, "I extend my warmest congratulations and thanks to the whole team who have excelled themselves and succeeded in setting our young people well on the way towards further accomplishment in the future." "Due to the pandemic, this year group suffered significant disruption to their education and did not sit public exams at GCSE. It is a measure of their extraordinary tenacity and ability that they have achieved so well". He went on to say that “the return to public examinations has been welcome, but also once again subject to unhelpful recent speculation about results. We couldn’t be prouder of the exceptional, inspiring and talented young people who make up the Yateley School student body. Celebrations this year are a fitting reward for the outstanding work and commitment of our amazing students, staff and school community.”
